FEATURES

Grand Opening of the Online Ceramic Gallery and Gifts Shop November 1, 2005

PROFILE

Yaozhou Kiln

TRAVEL

I have just returned from a China tour ...

ACTIVITIES

Educational Poster Series "CForm and Color - 100 Chinese Historical Ceramics"

OPPORTUNITIES

Big Fish and Small Pot - Second International Small Teapot Competition

CLAY TOOL and BOOK STORE

New Products

CHINESE CLAYART

"Chinese Clayart" is a newsletter emailed monthly to professional ceramic artists who want to know about ceramic art in China and things related. This newsletter will be a bridge between China and Western countries for the ceramic arts. Comments and suggestions are very welcome.

(Copyright 2000, The Chinese Ceramic Art Council, USA. All rights reserved)

The Chinese Ceramic Art Council, USA.
P.O.Box 64392, Sunnyvale, CA 94088, USA
Tel. 408-777-8319, Fax. 408-777-8321, Email: editor@chineseclayart.com
www.chineseclayart.com
Chief Editor, Guangzhen "Po" Zhou
English Editor, Deborah Bouchette

FEATURES

Grand Opening of the Online Ceramic Gallery and Gifts Shop November 1, 2005. I have been studying and collecting ceramic art works for many years. I have visited many ancient kilns and ceramic villages and found some good reproduction factories for ware from local kilns. For a long time, I nurtured an idea to open a web-store and provide affordable, collectable, educational Chinese ceramic art reproductions with museum quality, in order to provide all kinds of Chinese traditional ceramic art to our western customers and collectors. Our new Ceramic Gifts Shop will carry teapots of the Yixing Kiln, celadons of the Yaozhou and Longquan Kiln, blue-and-white and multi-colored ceramics of the Jingdezhen Kiln, and gift ideas like necklaces and jewelry boxes. It is also a good opportunity for ceramic artists and lovers to study the shapes, colors, glazes and firing techniques of Chinese ceramic history.

Meanwhile, we are going to continue to host Chinese ceramic art exhibitions in the US, and provide the one-of-a-kind or limited-edition art works on our website.

Please visit our website at www.chineseclayart.com and click on Gallery and Gifts. It is just the beginning of this business, and we really need your comments and your suggestions to enhance our products and services.

Thank you for your support!
Guangzhen Zhou, Director, Chinese Clay Art USA

PROFILE

Yaozhou Kiln
Established in the Tang Dynasty and prospering in the Northern Song Dynasty, the Yaozhou Kiln is one of the well-known celadon kilns in China. It is located in Huangpuzhen and Chenluzhen in the Yaozhou area of Shanxi province. The typical style of the Song Dynasty Yaozhou celadon ware were dark green glazed vessels such as bowls, dishes, saucers, jars, vases, small bottles and cups which are decorated with carvings or impressed with dragon, phoenix and floral patterns.

Three Treasures of Yaozhou Kiln:
Justice Cup
The Justice Cup is a drinking vessel. There is a standing dragon in the middle of the cup and a small hole in the foot of the cup. If one fills the cup below the brim, the water will be kept in the cup, but if one fills the cup above the brim, the liquid will run out. That is the reason why it is called the Justice Cup.

According to legend, the cup is a family heirloom of the Tang emperor. At the wedding ceremony of Li Mao (who was the son of emperor Li Longji) and Yang Yuyuan, Li Longji gave the cup as a present to Yang Yuhuan and asked her: “Do you know the meaning of why I give the cup to you?? Yang answered: “Doing anything should be controlled moderately or there could be nothing left.”

Phoenix Chirping Kettle
The Phoenix Chirping Kettle is a pottery or porcelain flagon using the phoenix as the essential model and decorated with the peony flower. The kettle makes noises like the chirping of a phoenix as the wine in it flows out.

There is a legend about the manufacturing of this kettle. In the Song dynasty, queen Wu Zetian once dreamed of a beautiful phoenix playing in a crowd of peonies, all who were eating and drinking, singing and dancing naturally. When she awakened, she realized it was only a dream, and she believed it was an omen of peace and luck. So she ordered skillful craftsman in Yaozhou to make a kettle of a phoenix playing in a crowd of peonies. From then on, the queen Wu held the vessel every day, hearing the splendid and lucky chirping, and prayed for the prosperity of the country and the peaceful lives of the people. The widely spread story of the “phoenix playing in a crowd of peonies” among the masses eulogized and reinforced its romantic representation.

Reverse Flowing Wine Pot
The wine pot has a drum shape with beautiful carved flower patterns on the surface. The handle of the pot is like a flying phoenix and the mouth of the pot is like a small lion’s mouth that is being suckled. There is a small hole in the middle of the bottom for filling the wine and it pours out from the spout. The patterns on the surface of the pot indicate good luck.

(Reproductions of the stoneware vessels of the Yaozhou Kiln with Song Dynasty styles are available at our website in the Gallery and Gifts section.)
TRAVEL

I have just returned from a China tour with a group of Americans. We had a very exciting opening of the Jingdezhen Ceramic Fair. Starting in Shanghai, we visited Foshan after the ceramic fair and ended in Beijing. Walking around the antique market and to find some unique historical cultural items with good prices was great fun for everyone.

Next year, we plan to lead two tours to China. The first one will be in the spring in April. We are going to work with Mr. Mel Jacobson (clayart@lsv.ceramics.org), the moderator of Clay Art Group of US. In the tour, we will focus on the ancient ceramic kiln sites and the antiques markets in different areas and cities. The second one will be in June 2006, which is our regular ceramic cultural exchange program.

ACTIVITIES

Educational Poster Series “Form and Color - 100 Chinese Historical Ceramics” We plan to compile and print a poster of “Form and Color - 100 Chinese Historical Ceramics.” We would like to invite all collectors of Chinese ceramics to email us their pictures for inclusion. We will select 100 ceramic pieces that represent all kinds of forms, glazes and colors from different kilns and areas in Chinese ceramic art history. The poster will be 21” x 31” and will be printed vertically in full color.

Eligibility: All pictures need to be in 35mm slide or jpg format, and taken by a professional-level photographer. Please include information about the piece (size and description).
Deadline: April 30, 2006
Copyrights grant and signature:
I agree to grant the copyright of my selected works to Guangzhen Zhou / Chinese Clay Art Corp. for printed educational materials to promote the ceramic art, specifically for the poster of 100 Contemporary International Teapots.
Your name (print and sign): __________________________ Date: ____________
Contact: Please email the cyber images to: ChineseClayArt@yahoo.com, or mail your slides to: Chinese Ceramic Art Council, USA
P.O. Box 1733
Cupertino, CA 95015, USA
Note: In the newsletter of March 2005, we posted the entry information for 100 Contemporary International Teapots? Since we have not gotten enough entries, we will put the teapot images together with those from the International Teapot Exhibition of Yixing 2005 and the International Small Teapot Competition Saddleback College, Mission Viejo, California 2006 (for details and entry forms, please visit: (http://gallery.saddleback.edu/shows/15FEB06/). The poster is scheduled to be printed out and available at our web store around the summer of 2006.

OPPORTUNITIES

Big Fish and Small Pot - Second International Small Teapot Competition
Saddleback College Art Gallery, Mission Viejo, California, USA
Entry Deadline (slides): December 15, 2005
Exhibition: February 15 through March 9, 2006
Artist’s Reception: February 16, 2006, 6 to 9 pm
For details and entry forms, please visit: http://gallery.saddleback.edu/shows/15FEB06/

CLAY TOOL and BOOK STORE
New Items in the Book Section
BK851, Playing cards. 54 pictures of porcelain wares from the Yuan to Qing Dynasties of China (1271-1911) as collected by the Shanghai Museum. BK9001-BK9039. 39 different postcards, printed with beautiful porcelain wares that have been collected by Shanghai Museum.

Holiday Sale: (Promotion expires Dec. 31, 2005)
During the holiday season, we are including free gifts with orders of our low price products:
For orders over $100 and up to $1000, you will receive a Multi-Function Tool (M2012, $17 retail value)--8 functions: adjustable wrench, Phillips screwdriver, slotted screwdriver, saw, file, pliers, knife, and wire cutter. For orders over $1000, you will receive the book, A Dictionary of Chinese Ceramics (BK007, $250 retail value).

Price Changes from Chinese Clay Art USA
Dear Valued Customers,
Due to the world wide price increase of many materials, and the currency exchange differences between the US and China, we are going to raise our prices from 3% - 10% some of our products starting in Jan. 2006.

Two years after the establishment of our ceramic art studio, the Clayground, we opened this clay tools endeavor in the end of 2001, four years ago. The current prices of our products were calculated based on the year of 2002.

During the past years, we have developed many new products and obtained two patents for our products. We carry unique products such as texture mats, breathable clay boards, stamps, and ceramic and wood molds in many themes.

Also, our director Guangzhen Zhou has been traveling back and forth between the US and China every one or two months. He has been contacting many factories to find good quality products with low prices. Many of these factories are actually located in the underdeveloped countryside.

We will continue to try our best to keep low prices to serve our customers. We are very appreciative of all your support during the past years, and we will continue to develop new products, provide competitively priced items and the best services to all of our clients.

TOP